A : "I think it was the 29th of Augus met Francisco in the middle of the street between here and the north side of the square, and he spoke and shook hands and asked about my wife and baby, and as I was going over this way he came over here, and we sat and talked right here at this table quite a little bit, and when I got up to leave he says, 'I want to see you before you leave town.' That was all he said. I had a couple of chairs out of the Sheriff's office for my wife down at the platform at the speech, and after I took her away in the aftern came back to get my coat, which I had left hanging in the Sheriff's office. The Sheriff said to me, 'Has either one of those fellows talked to you about the Q. "The Sheriff?"

A. "I says 'no, sir." He says, 'I told them I did not want them to, and he says, has not Francisco said anything to you.' I says. 'He told me that he wanted to see me before I left town.' He says, 'Have you seen him? I told him I had not, and he says, 'I want you to see him.' and he got up to the telephone and called up Francisco's office, Francisco was not in so he says he would go down on the street in and said that Mr. Liste came in and said the old man was about to die down in the hand stand, and the Sheriff and Mr. 'We will see if you can see him around family connections are of the very first class. He married Miss Bertha Elack-well, whose mother, a large recovery the class. er, is a cousin to Senator Cockreil. His business is that of a farmer. When the news spread about town more of excitement prevailed in Butler than the nmunity has experienced in some time. If the informant had been a man of other character, less of feeling would have which is so much talked of through-State, very close to home.

Judge Thomas B. Harvey of St. Louis came to Butler as St. Louis counsel for Kratz. He and Folk arrived early in the morning, one from Kansas City and the other from St. Louis. In his quiet appreciation of the "don't-worry policy," Mr. Folk went to bed at 5:20 a. m. and made up lost sleep until $:30. Then, after break-

Withdrawing into the private office of Judge Graves, he told the latter and Prosecuting Attorney A. B. Ludwick of his information. As the last panel had been dismissed by Judge Graves under suspicion, needless to say this new depanel came like the proverpial bolt from I the blue. When the county Kraiz jury was ques-

Judge Graves thought that it was an ex-

Doctor Broome thought that ten to fifteen weeks should be allowed to elapse to guarantee the full recovery of the defendant. Mr. Folk asked that the case be reset for the first week in December, Judge Harvey argued at length to the effect that the law should allow that the defendant be in good health when called upon to stand trisl.

be in good health when called upon to stand trial.

He wound up by asking that the case go over until the first week in January. Mr. Folk sald that Doctor Broome had testified that Kratz would have recovered by the present date, and that now an even longer period is asked. He added that the present Circuit Attorney will go out of office on January 1, and that his successor could hardly be expected to be as familiar with the case as the present occupant of the office.

Judge Harvey remarked that it might be presumed that the successor would be as well able to prosecute the case as the present Circuit Attorney.

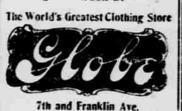

Judge Graves counted up and found that it would be eleven weeks from the date of the operation to December 12. He continued the case to that date.

Mr. Folk departed to-night for St. Louis.

of plates designated in the Gioco.

The greatest care is exercised in the manufacture of the plates, and Mr. FitzGibbon says that since his term in office not one counterfeit plate has been used.
Previously, it is said, the dies used in stamping the plates were manufactured and sold at a low price. There was at the time no city ordinance covering the counterfeiting, but three years ago an ordinance was passed, and not a single violation has come to the notice of the License Commissioner or the police.
